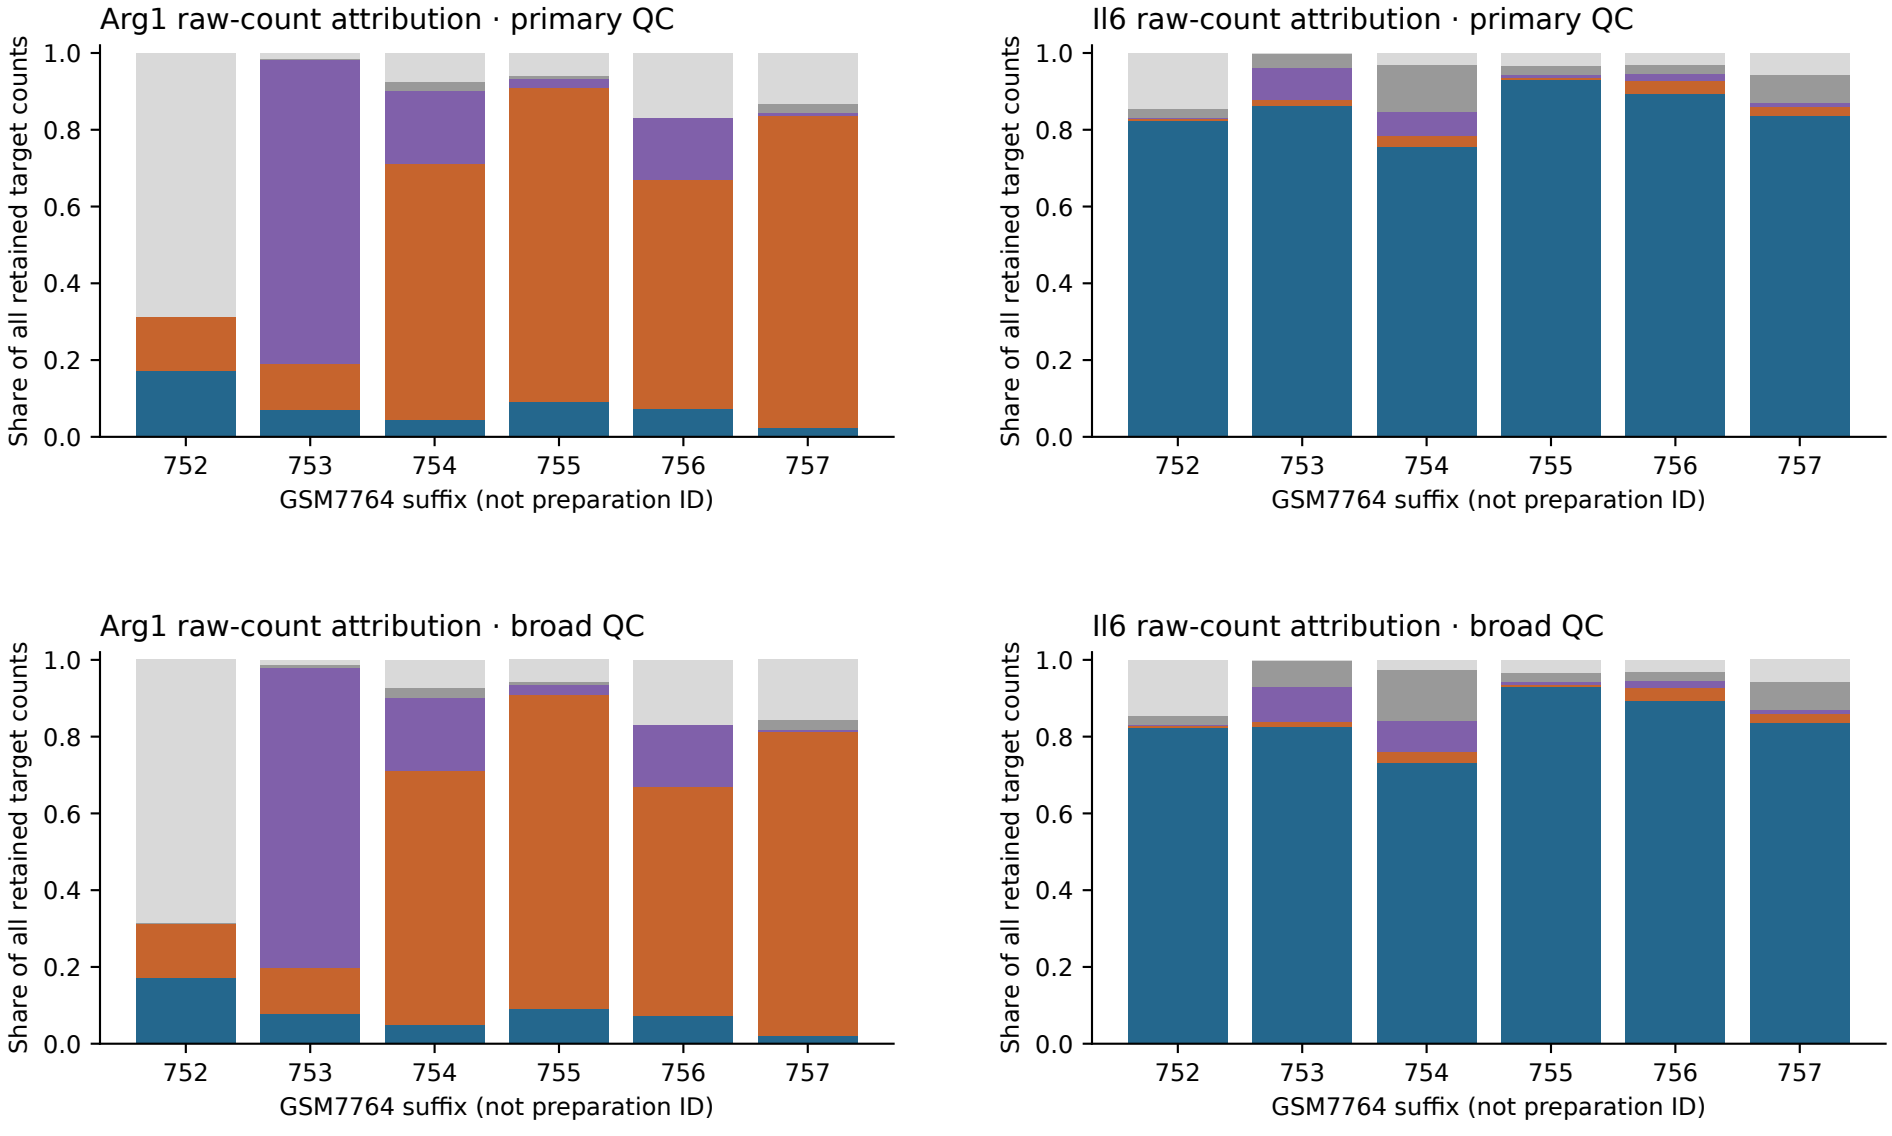
Original labels retain all QC-passed target counts



Transcript shares depend on depth and capture; they are not protein-source fractions. All original labels and excluded-cell counts remain visible.